

babalas rescue+

bounce back from your hangover

Brand identity

Version 1.0 · Working design backbone · Prepared by Hustlery

+ 01 · BRAND ESSENCE

We won’t leave you hangin’.

Babalas Rescue+ is a hangover-recovery brand made in South Africa. “Babalas” is local slang for the morning after, and the logo says the rest: a figure dangling from a cliff edge, one hand still holding on, and a product that helps them climb back up.

The brand sits between functional recovery (electrolytes, B-vitamins, antioxidants) and a party-culture sense of humour. It is the friend who shows up with water and no judgement. Its promise is a single line, used on every pack:

bounce back from your hangover

The idea in one frame

A cliff and a climber. The cliff is last night. The climber is you, mid-recovery, hanging on and about to bounce back. The + in “rescue+” is the help arriving.

HANGOVER RECOVERY · REHYDRATE & RESTORE · BOOST ENERGY · BOOST IMMUNITY · RELIEVE “HANGXIETY”

Benefit claims are taken from the client trade presenters. All creative must carry the responsible-drinking message (see Voice).

Social, South African, a bit sorry for themselves.

18+

Adults who drink socially. Packs state not recommended for under 18s, pregnant or lactating women.

9:16

Reached through short vertical video: Instagram Reels and TikTok, with paid support on Meta, Google and TikTok.

→

Focus moving towards Black South African consumers (client marketing brief, Jan 2026). Casting, language and locations should reflect this deliberately, not as an afterthought.

Open question for the client: a fuller persona (age band, cities, occasions) would sharpen creative. See section 12.

✚ 03 · VOICE & TONE

Funny, but the brand is always the solution, never the punchline.

These three rules come straight from the client's influencer content brief and apply to all copy, captions and scripts.

1

Self-aware & honest

We know what last night was. No shaming, no miracle claims. Say what the product does, plainly.

2

Distinctly South African

Local slang, local places, local humour. Written how people actually talk, not translated from an overseas template.

3

Funny, never at our own expense

The joke is the hangover. The brand arrives as the fix, so it is never the butt of the gag.

In practice

WE SAY	WE DON'T SAY
"The Ultimate Bounce-Back Has Arrived."	"Cure your hangover instantly." (no medical claims)
"Replenish what last night took out."	"Drink more, party harder." (never encourage excess)
"Wake up refreshed, hydrated, ready. Zero regrets."	Stiff scripted ad-reads or corporate wellness-speak
"We've got you." / "We won't leave you hangin'."	Jokes where the product fails or looks silly

ALWAYS INCLUDE

WE SUPPORT RESPONSIBLE DRINKING. Enjoy as part of a balanced and healthy lifestyle. Not intended to diagnose, treat, cure or prevent any disease. Not recommended for under-18s, pregnant or lactating women. Wording is from the client's trade presenters; check with the client before using it on ad creative.

+ 04 · LOGO

One mark, two parts.

The lockup combines the climber icon with the babalas rescue+ wordmark and tagline. The wordmark is drawn artwork: never retype it in a font. Always use the supplied files in `brand/logo/`.

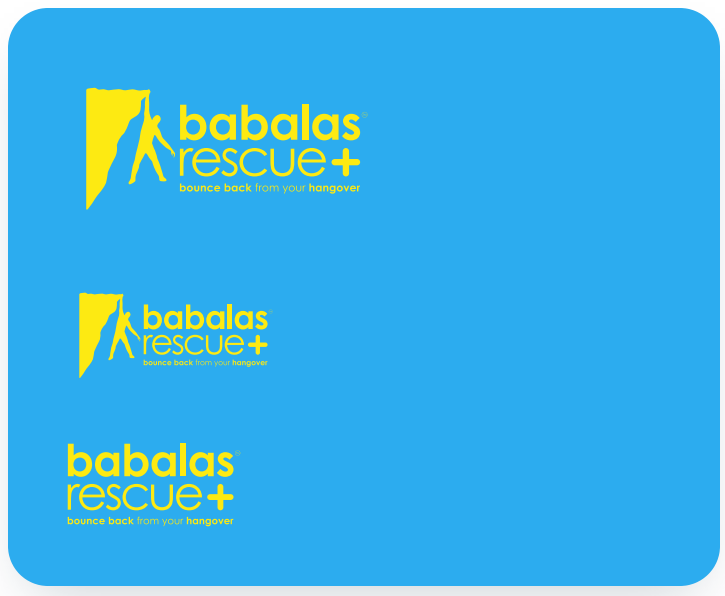

Primary: yellow on Babalas Blue (as seen on the cans and sachets). Secondary: blue on Rescue Yellow. Single-colour yellow / white / blue / dark versions are for photography overlays and one-colour print. Pink is not used for the logo.

Clear space

Keep at least the width of the “+” clear on every side (shown by the dashed padding). No type, edges or imagery inside it. The icon may bleed off the canvas on its own (see Graphic language) but the full lockup never does.

Minimum size

Full lockup: 110 px / 30 mm wide minimum (the tagline is legible down to there). Below that, use the icon alone. Wordmark-only: 90 px / 25 mm.

Which version?

NEED	USE
Hero / default	Yellow on blue
Light or yellow layouts	Blue on yellow
Over photography	Single-colour yellow or white
Avatar, favicon, stickers	Icon only
Tight horizontal spaces	Wordmark only

Misuse

Don’t put it on pink (1.5 : 1 contrast).

Don’t put yellow on yellow, or any low-contrast pairing.

Don’t stretch, squash or rotate it.

Don’t add shadows, outlines or effects.

05 · COLOUR

Blue and yellow lead. Pink only shouts.

The cans and sachets are blue and yellow, split along the cliff edge. Pink appears sparingly on the can (“ENERGY”) and as a variant callout. Everything else is white or a dark text colour.

PRIMARY

Babalas Blue

HEX #2CACEF
RGB 44 · 172 · 239
Token --bb-blue

PRIMARY

Rescue Yellow

HEX #FDEA12
RGB 253 · 234 · 18
Token --bb-yellow

ACCENT

Hangover Pink

HEX #F6009D
RGB 246 · 0 · 157
Token --bb-pink

DERIVED

Night

HEX #0B2A40
RGB 11 · 42 · 64
Token --bb-night

Proportion

Blue 45% | Yellow 35% | White 15% | 5

Guideline for a typical layout. Blue and yellow should always feel like a split, not a mix.

Pairings and legibility

Bounce back — Yellow on Blue · 2.05:1 — DISPLAY ONLY

Bounce back — Night on Blue · 5.8:1 — AA

Bounce back — Blue on Yellow · 2.05:1 — DISPLAY ONLY

Bounce back — Night on Yellow · 11.9:1 — AAA

Bounce back — Blue on White · 2.5:1 — DISPLAY ONLY

Bounce back — Deep Blue on White · 6.9:1 — AA

Bounce back — Pink on White · 3.9:1 — LARGE TEXT

Bounce back — Pink on Blue · 1.5:1 — NEVER

Why “Night” exists. The signature yellow-on-blue pairing is striking but only 2.05 : 1, fine for logos and headline-size display type, not for body copy, captions or small labels. Any small text on brand colours uses Night. Night and Deep Blue are derived additions (not in the client’s files) and should be confirmed with the client.

Sources differ slightly. The influencer brief gives blue `#2CACEF` / yellow `#FBEA13`; the client colour sheet gives `#00ACEF` / `#FDEE11` / `#F6009D`; the logo PDF opens as `#459FDD` / `#F5F014` (colour-conversion artefact). We standardise on the brief’s blue and its yellow, nudged to `#FDEA12` as measured on the cover artwork. Print values (Pantone / CMYK) are not in the files and need confirming with the printer.

Futura shouts. Montserrat explains.

HEADLINES · FUTURA HEAVY

Aa

Wake up. Rehydrate. Bounce back.

Heavy weight, tight tracking, sentence case. Digital stand-in: Jost 800 (open licence, bundled in `brand/fonts`).

BODY · MONTSERRAT

Aa

Replenish what last night took out. 300 ml, lightly carbonated, 100 mg caffeine.

Regular 400 for body, Bold 700 for emphasis, Light 300 for large pull-quotes. Free on Google Fonts.

DISPLAY / 96	Rescue me
H1 / 56	The morning-after fix
H2 / 32	Electrolytes, B-vitamins, antioxidants
TAGLINE	bounce back from your hangover
BODY / 16	Stop your hangover in its tracks. Dissolve one sachet into 200–300 ml of cold water before a night out and before bed, with another the morning after.
CAPTION / 12	CAFFEINE FREE · 13,4 G · 1 SERVING

> Font note. Three different font lists exist in the client's influencer-brief files: Futura + Montserrat (the branded version on the Products folder, dated Oct 2025), Century Gothic (an earlier version) and Poppins (a re-used Vitality I.V. template with a different orange palette). We take the Futura + Montserrat brief as authoritative: it is the only one on the Babalas cover artwork. Century Gothic is a safe system fallback. Poppins and the orange palette should not be used.

The tagline treatment alternates weights: bounce back (bold) · from your (regular) · hangover (bold), exactly as in the logo lockup.

Four moves that make it feel like Babalas.

1 · Hang the climber off the edge

Crop the icon huge and let it bleed off the canvas, as on the influencer brief cover. The cliff becomes the layout edge and the climber is always mid-frame.

2 · Split along the cliff

Blue and yellow meet on a jagged diagonal, never a soft gradient. Flip which colour is “rock” and which is “sky” to keep layouts fresh.

3 · The “+” is the rescue

Pull the plus from “rescue+” out as a badge, bullet or sticker. It marks the helpful bit: benefits, offers, “new”.

bounce back from your hangover

4 · Tagline as a stamp

Use the bold / regular tagline as a repeatable lockup under products, at the end of videos and on stickers.

Shape

Round corners (20–32 px), pill buttons and tags. Sharp points are reserved for the cliff edge.

Space

Generous. Big headline, one product, one tagline. Let the colour block do the work.

Don’t

No gradients between brand colours, no stock-wellness icons, no neon-on-neon, no extra colours (especially the orange ramp from the Poppins template).

Real mornings, not stock smiles.

Show the morning after: the groan, the water, the first sip, the comeback. Bright natural light, real South African settings, real people.

DO	DON'T
Product clear in frame, can and bottle where possible	Hidden or tiny product
Vertical 9:16, HD or higher, well lit, in focus	Dark, grainy, horizontal-only
Authentic voice and personality, no stiff scripting	Polished ad-read
Relatable moments: couch, braai leftovers, work-from-bed, recovery walk	Glamourising heavy drinking
Blue / yellow colour pops via props, wardrobe, backgrounds	Heavy filters that shift brand colours

Video specs (client brief)

Short-form	5–15 seconds
Medium-form	15–30 seconds
Influencer deliverable	1 Reel / TikTok, 30–45 s, vertical 9:16
Approval	Never post before Babalas approval; content goes live from the official page first, with a collab invite Overlay type: Futura (or Jost) for headlines, Montserrat for subtitles. Use the single-colour yellow or white logo as a watermark, bottom-centre, inside the safe zone.

Gap: photoshoot folders in the Drive (Black Coffee, Mieliepop 2025, Feb Shoot, New Years Party, Bronson) hold full-resolution photography of 6–11 MB per image that couldn't be pulled through the Drive connector. Select hero frames and drop them into `brand/assets/photography/` to complete the mood board.

09 · PRODUCT RANGE

Two formats, one family.

Energy can

- 300 ml · lightly carbonated
- 100 mg caffeine
- Yellow body, blue cliff & climber
- Pink “ENERGY” label

Sachet

- 13,4 g · 1 serving · caffeine free
- Dissolve in 200–300 ml cold water
- Yellow body, blue cliff & climber
- Line: “bounce back from your hangover”

Sachet box (6s)

- 6 × 13,4 g sachets
- Blue box, yellow cliff & climber
- Line: “we won’t leave you hangin’”

A 200 ml liquid format and 4-pack / 24-case shippers also appear in the client’s trade presenters. Product packshots live in `brand/assets/` (full-size originals in `source-assets/`). Barcode and weights are intentionally not reproduced here.

+ 10 · APPLYING IT

Starter layouts for social.

Three quick proofs that the system holds together. They are not final campaign creative.

+ 11 · USING THIS FOLDER

Where everything lives.

PATH	WHAT IT IS
`brand/brand-tokens.css`	Colours, fonts, type scale, radius. Import into every web/HTML design.
`brand/logo/`	SVG + PNG: 6 full-lockup colourways, 4 icon, 3 wordmark.
`brand/fonts/`	Jost (Futura stand-in) and Montserrat, woff2.
`brand/assets/`	Web-sized product packshots (transparent PNG).
`brand/moodboard.html`	The brand mood board (PNG export in `brand/exports/`).
`source-assets/`	Original files pulled from Google Drive (logo PDF, colour sheet, briefs, packshots).
`scripts/build_logos.py`	Regenerates logo colourways from the supplied PDF.

+ 12 · OPEN QUESTIONS & SOURCES

What we still need from the client.

To confirm

1. Print colour values (Pantone / CMYK) for blue, yellow, pink.
2. Licence for Futura, or approval to use Jost for digital.
3. Approval of the derived Night / Deep Blue text colours.
4. Wider persona detail and cities, particularly the Black consumer focus.
5. Approved responsible-drinking line for ad creative.
6. Whether the “Babalas Rescue+” and “Rescue Plus” / `@rescueplus` naming should be unified in copy.

Pulled from Google Drive

- Babalas Rescue › Assets › Logo Files › Babalas logo.pdf
- Babalas + › Brand guide › Cp all.png, Babalas Brand brief (1)/(2).pdf
- Babalas + › Products › Brand brief (Futura/Montserrat), Trade presenters (can, sachet, dual)
- Babalas Rescue › Packshot › can, sachet and box PNGs
- Babalas + › Documents › Influencer Content Brief; Planning › 1/3 Marketing Strategy (Jan 2026)

Invoices and banking details in the Drive were deliberately not copied.